Claims

How do I file a claim?

Submitting a claim online is easy. We'll walk you through each step of the process. You can even upload supporting documents like receipts and set up direct deposit to get paid fast. To submit a claim, go to the My Claims page or simply select New Claim from the navigation.

What if I'm not sure I have all the documents required for my claim?

No worries — just gather the ones you have ready so we can get the process started. We can help you gather any outstanding materials later via chat or phone call. We recommend filling out a HIPAA form either at the beginning of the claims process or in the Forms card on the My Account page. With your advance permission, we can contact your healthcare providers directly to collect any outstanding documentation.

Note: HIPAA permissions only apply to that person being covered but will be good for two years after submission.

How does the Authorization to Obtain Information form work? What's it for?

The Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA) protects your health information from being disclosed without your consent. We'll need your authorization to contact your health care providers directly to collect any necessary documents to support your claims. This authorization is offered to take some of the burden off your shoulders during the claims experience.

To provide your consent, you'll need to fill out the Authorization to Obtain Information form, commonly referred to as the claims authorization form, for each covered person who has received health services. The authorization will be good for two years.

You can find the Authorization to Obtain Information form here.

How do I check the status of my claim?

You can check the status of your claim, including any supporting documents you provided, from the claim detail page. Go to My Claims > choose the claim > Claim Details.

Why is my claim still pending (showing “In Review” status)?

We do our best during the claims review process to ensure that you’re getting the coverage you deserve. If your claim shows “In Review,” it means one of two things: Either our team is still working to determine if certain health care services are covered with your coverage — and how much to pay you when they are. Or, it’s pending receipt of information from you (i.e., a document needs to be provided to support a proof of loss). To review your claim and take action if needed, go to My Claims > choose the claim > Claim Details.

How do I set up direct deposit to receive claims payments?

We like your way of thinking! During the claim filing process, you will be given an option to set up direct deposit for fast claims payment. Just follow the prompts.

Information Privacy

How do you handle my info?

We follow a strenuous privacy policy that includes protecting your sensitive information as well as that of others you add to your policies.

I don’t see my question in the FAQs. Where can I get help?

You can connect with us via chat or email 24/7, or call us at 800-433-30369 9 a.m.-7 p.m. ET.

We would love to help you get the most out of your Aflac coverage.
