

Critical Illness Insurance

Coverage that helps ensure you and your family have the financial support to offset the expenses of a serious illness that many not be covered by your medical plan.

Critical illness insurance: why is it important?

When critical illness affects your family, you'll have the support you need when it matters most.

While experts recommend that families keep several months of living expenses set aside to help in an emergency, a general rule of thumb is to save enough to cover 3–6 months' worth of expenses.¹

Even if you have medical and disability insurance, there can be financial gaps in your coverage. Disability income may only cover a portion of your income, and medical insurance can possibly leave you with some extra expenses. You would have to cover deductibles, copays, extra costs for out-of-network care, and non-covered services such as alternative treatments.

The No. 1 reason for bankruptcy is due to medical bills.² 1 in 5 working age Americans with health insurance have trouble paying off their medical bills.³

How it works.

Critical illness insurance is coverage that can help safeguard your finances by providing you with a lump-sum payment — one convenient payment all at once — when you or your family needs it most. The extra cash can help you focus on getting back on track — without worrying about finding the money to cover some of your expenses.

And best of all, the payment is made directly to you, and is in addition to any other insurance you may have. It's yours to spend however you like, including for your or your family's everyday living expenses.

Whatever you need while recovering, critical illness insurance is there to make life a little easier.

If you or a covered family member⁶ are diagnosed with a medical condition, MetLife Critical Illness Insurance provides you with a lump-sum payment to help out.

METLIFE CRITICAL ILLNESS INSURANCE (CII) IS A LIMITED BENEFIT GROUP INSURANCE POLICY. Like most group accident and health insurance policies, MetLife's CII policies contain certain exclusions, limitations and terms for keeping them in force. Product features and availability may vary by state. In most plans, there is a pre-existing condition exclusion. After a covered condition occurs, there is a benefit suspension period during which most plans do not pay recurrence benefits, except in the case of insureds covered under a New York certificate. MetLife offers CII on both an Attained Age and an Issue Age basis. Attained Age rates are based on 5-year age bands and will increase when a Covered Person reaches a new age band. MetLife's Issue Age CII is guaranteed renewable, and may be subject to benefit reductions that begin at age 65. Premium rates for MetLife's Issue Age CII are based on age at the time of the initial coverage effective date and will not increase due to age; premium rates for increases in coverage, including the addition of dependents' coverage, if applicable, will be based on the covered person's age at the time of the initial coverage effective date. Rates are subject to change for MetLife's Issue Age CII on a class-wide basis. A more detailed description of the benefits, limitations, and exclusions applicable to both Attained Age and Issue Age CII can be found in the applicable Disclosure Statement or Outline of Coverage/Disclosure Document available at time of enrollment.
